INTRODUCTION

The pattern or practice investigation is one of the primary tools used by the United States Department of Justice (DOJ) Civil Rights Division (Special Litigation Section) to discourage the use of unconstitutional policing practices such as racial profiling and excessive use of force.

At the onset of a pattern or practice investigation, DOJ gathers information about a law enforcement entity: It hosts meetings and listening sessions, reviews documented evidence, and gleans information from conversations and anecdotal accounts. DOJ's preliminary investigations can and often do point to the need to overhaul a law enforcement agency's policing practices.

The Uniform Reporting Law Enforcement Improvement Act (URLEIA) is a sensible method of ensuring that the patterns and practices of law enforcement agencies and agents, nationwide, are transparent and readily discernible. Once URLEIA is fully implemented, DOJ will seldom need to descend upon a law enforcement agency and sift through piles of records to determine if a law enforcement agency or a law enforcement agent is acting illegally or depriving people of their constitutional rights. URLEIA will provide the data DOJ, law enforcement agencies, licensing bodies, civilian review boards, and oversight entities require to quickly detect and remove unfit law enforcement agents before they do irreparable harm to members of the public.

URLEIA also gives rise to a new policing approach predicated on the "Obligation to Preserve Life and Prevent Injury." This approach to policing is already in effect in communities of affluence throughout the United States where law enforcement agents exhibit restraint when interacting with members of the public. Smart policing is the guiding principle of the Obligation to Preserve Life and Prevent Injury policing approach. Smart policing requires law enforcement agents to make wise decisions while carrying out their policing duties.

URLEIA makes policing safer for everyone, including law enforcement agents who will come to be viewed as community servants and partners rather than community predators who are out to take lives and ruin lives.

LEGAL AUTHORITY FOR FEDERAL CONTROL

SEC. 1. URLEIA is rooted in the Federal Government’s right to exercise concurrent authority (dual sovereignty) over the people. The framework URLEIA creates would create dual federal and state jurisdiction: The federal government would have authority to oversee the development and implementation of policing standards nationwide and states would retain operational control of day-to-day policing functions.

The Commerce Clause Article 1, Section 8, Clause 3 of the U.S. Constitution provides a basis for joint jurisdiction. Article 1, Section 8, Clause 3 of the U.S. Constitution confers upon Congress the power “To regulate Commerce with foreign Nations, and among the several States, and with Indian Tribes.” Congress has repeatedly used the Commerce Clause to justify exercising legislative power over the activities of states and their citizens when those activities bear a “close and substantial relationship to interstate commerce.”

Countless reports available on national policing confirm that African Americans, Hispanics, and other minorities are disproportionately harmed by racially discriminatory policing practices and policies. According to the F.B.I.’s Supplementary Homicide Report, 31.8 percent of people shot by police were African-American even though African Americans constitute only 13.2 percent of the general population. An article that appeared on the PBS News Hour’s website titled Why Aren’t More People Talking about Latinos Killed by Police? reports that Hispanics make up 17.6 percent of the U.S. population but represent 23 percent of all searches and nearly 30 percent of all arrests. It also reveals that when it comes to police killings, Hispanics are second only to African Americans.

An informal survey conducted by ONUS, Inc.—the drafter of the URLEIA legislative proposal—reveals that discriminatory policing has a restrictive effect on the free flow of interstate and intrastate commerce. The survey also affirms that discriminatory policing significantly influences the decisions African Americans, Hispanics, and other minorities make on a daily basis pertaining to commerce, including the routes they travel, the types of vehicles they purchase, the neighborhoods in which they choose to live and the places where they shop.

URLEIA establishes high-quality national standards that will help ensure policing is consistent from community to community and state to state, helping to end the restrictive impact racially-discriminatory policing is having on intrastate and interstate commerce. URLEIA will function in concert with existing national laws pertaining to policing, including:

The Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994, 42 U.S.C. § 14141 (“Section 14141”). Section 14141 makes it unlawful for a law enforcement officer to engage in a pattern of conduct that deprives individuals of rights, privileges, or immunities secured by the Constitution or laws of the United States.

Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 ([Public Law 90–351; 82 Stat. 1971). The Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 1) Encourages states and units of general local government to prepare and adopt comprehensive plans based upon their evaluation of state and local problems of law enforcement; 2) Authorizes grants to states and units of local government in order to improve and strengthen law enforcement; 3) Encourages research and development directed toward the improvement of law enforcement; and 4) Promotes the development of new methods for preventing and reducing crime and detecting and apprehending criminals. The Act also forbids discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, or national origin by agencies receiving federal funds.

Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. This act forbids discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, or national origin by agencies receiving federal funds.

¹ An act to assist state and local governments in reducing the incidence of crime and to increase the effectiveness, fairness, and coordination of law enforcement and criminal justice activities at all levels of government, and for other purposes.

PRECEDENTS FOR FEDERAL INTERVENTION

SEC. 2. In the past, Congress has intervened to address nationwide problems that warrant greater efforts than can be undertaken by an individual state, especially when the problem pertains to the potential for loss of human life. The following examples represent two such occasions:

Federal Health Care Quality Improvement Act of 1986 (HCQIA), as amended, Title IV of Public Law 99-660 (42 U.S.C. 11101 et seq.). Prior to the enactment of the Federal Health Care Quality Improvement Act of 1986 (HCQIA), States were responsible for regulating healthcare facilities and medical practitioners within their states. Congress enacted HCQIA, finding that “[T]he increasing occurrence of medical malpractice and the need to improve the quality of medical care have become nationwide problems that warrant greater efforts than those that can be undertaken by any individual State. . . .” A key aspect of HCQIA was the creation of the National Practitioner Data Bank (NPDB), which was designed to track adverse actions taken against medical practitioners. The data bank tracks all payments made on behalf of physicians in connection with medical liability settlements and judgments as well as actions taken against practitioners pertaining to the practitioner’s license, clinical privileges or professional society memberships. As required by HCQIA, NPDB makes information in its data bank available to hospitals, state licensure boards, and other healthcare entities in order to help those entities prevent an unfit medical practitioner from moving from hospital to hospital and state to state to skirt accountability for prior failings and misdeeds.

The Domestic Violence Amendment to the Gun Control Act of 1968 (Section 922, Title 18, United States Code [18 USC 922]), known as the Lautenberg Amendment. The earlier version of the legislation—the Gun Control Act of 1968—prohibited persons convicted of felony domestic abuse from owning a firearm. The 1994 Lautenberg Amendment expanded the Gun Control Act by criminalizing firearm possession not only for perpetrators of felonies but also for perpetrators of domestic violence misdemeanors. The Lautenberg Amendment holds persons convicted of domestic violence misdemeanors to the same standards imposed upon person convicted of domestic felony abuse. No longer could perpetrators of domestic abuse escape restrictions of the 1968 Gun Control Act by managing to have a felony domestic abuse conviction reduced to a misdemeanor conviction. The Amendment also removed the public interest exception that allowed government personnel, police, and military to own a gun even though they had a domestic violence conviction.

Definitions

(a) In this Act:

- (1) Adverse action refers to any negative action or finding by a law enforcement agency, law enforcement agent with supervisory responsibilities, administrative or oversight tribunal, licensing or certification body, trainer, or other person with authority to train, supervise, or discipline a law enforcement agent.
- (2) Adversely affecting refers to any act that reflects negatively on a law enforcement agent or a law enforcement agency. An act that is “adversely affecting” includes:
 - (A) Any voluntary agreement or court-related agreement between the United States Department of Justice (DOJ) and a law enforcement agency to rectify a negative investigative or other finding against a law enforcement agent or agency; and
 - (B) Any action taken against a law enforcement agent to rectify or redress a negative investigative or other finding, including a conviction, reprimand, revocation of license, censor, demotion, civil judgment, decertification, or other similar act.
- (3) Civil judgment means a court-ordered action rendered in a federal or state court proceeding on a civil matter.
- (4) Child means any person who has not reached age eighteen.
- (5) Color of law means a person is using or acting upon authority given to him or her by a local, state, or federal governmental agency. Persons acting under color of law within the meaning of this statute include police officers, prison guards, and other law enforcement officials who are on-duty working for a public entity at the time of an incident or law enforcement action.
- (6) Complaint means any allegation of wrongdoing against a law enforcement agent or any claim that a law enforcement agent’s actions failed to rise to the expected standard.
- (7) Consequence means a result or effect of an act, no matter how small or incremental.

- (8) Crime scene investigator (CSI) refers to a person charged with recovering, managing and processing evidence at or from a crime scene.

 - (B) Any court of general criminal jurisdiction of a State authorized by a law of that State.
- (10) Custody and control of a deceased person's remains means the right to make all decisions, consistent with applicable laws, regarding the handling of a dead body, including, but not limited to, possession, at-need funeral arrangements, final disposition, and disinterment.
- (11) Criminal negligence means failing to act as required or acting recklessly without reasonable caution, thereby putting another person at risk of injury or death.
- (12) Data bank means a large repository of data on a particular topic that is generally accessible by many users.

- (A) A recommendation rendered by an investigative or oversight body that rescinds a negative action or adverse finding; or
 - (B) A recommendation rendered by an investigative or oversight body that affirms a negative action or adverse finding. An adverse finding or negative action includes exclusions, revocations of licenses or certifications, censors, reprimands, probation, surrender of weapon, and other similar acts. This definition excludes corrective action plans unless the number of corrective action plans exceeds the number allowed.

- (17) Formal proceeding means a “due process” proceeding held before a federal or state licensing or certification authority or private accreditation entity that maintains defined rules, policies, or procedures for such a proceeding.
- (18) Forensic pathologist is a medical doctor who performs autopsies. The results of an autopsy, like other medical evaluations, are based upon the personal assessment and professional opinion of the forensic pathologist conducting the autopsy. A forensic pathologist generally performs an autopsy to determine the cause of death, mechanism of death, and manner of death. The cause of death explains how the death occurred, e.g., from a gunshot, knife wound, blunt force trauma, hanging, etc. The manner of death is listed as natural cause, accidental, homicide, suicide, or undetermined. The mechanism of death refers to the agent that brought about the death, e.g., gun, knife, etc. Generally, the forensic pathologist who performs an autopsy on a person killed by a law enforcement agent works for a local, state, or federal entity.
- (19) Formally activated means using a law enforcement department personnel procedure to establish a law enforcement agent as on-duty.
- (20) Incident refers to any act a law enforcement agent is required to document, by law or policy, during the course of carrying out his or her duties. Such acts include, but are not limited to:

- (21) Incident reporting means the act of documenting an incident in the manner prescribed by law or policy.
- (22) Implicit bias is a discriminatory bias based upon attitudes and stereotypes a person is not aware he or she harbors.
- (23) Law enforcement agency refers to any local, state, or federal entity that performs law enforcement activities, including contract firms and security firms that are legally authorized to engage in activities involving the detention, arrest, or incarceration of juveniles or adults. Law enforcement agencies include:
- (A) Local policing entities, which derive their authority from a local governing body;
 - (B) State police/highway patrols, which are law enforcement agencies charged with patrolling highways and assisting with investigations and emergencies that extend beyond the jurisdictional boundaries of local policing entities;

(C) Special jurisdiction police, which generally provides policing services for defined entities or areas such as military compounds, parks, schools, transportation facilities (e.g., subways, buses, etc.), hospitals, universities, colleges, housing authorities, and government buildings. A special jurisdiction policing entity generally provides the full array of services provided by local policing entities;

(D) National Guard members;

(E) Deputy Sheriff Offices, which generally enforce state laws at the local level; and

(F) Other entities that perform policing functions.

- (24) Law enforcement agent is a person authorized to carry out policing functions on behalf of a law enforcement agency or security firm.
- (25) Law enforcement action or law enforcement event means any act that involves a law enforcement agent and member of the public that has consequences to either the member of the public or a law enforcement agent. A law enforcement action/event includes, but is not limited to, removal of a child from the custody of an adult by child protective services, a traffic or other citation, vehicle tow, arrest, or use of force by a law enforcement agent.
- (26) Law enforcement-involved use-of-force event means a use-of-force event by a law enforcement agent or a use-of-force event against a law enforcement agent.
- (27) Law Enforcement Officers' Bill of Rights (LEOBOR) provides law enforcement agents with special privileges not afforded other people accused of crimes. Most states have enacted their own version of an officer's bill of rights.
- (28) Lead law enforcement agent refers to a law enforcement agent who has the most interaction with or most significant interaction with a member of the public during an incident that does not involve use of force. A law enforcement agent who uses force during an incident is considered a lead law enforcement agent.
- (29) Licensing body means any local, state, federal, independent entity, or other body charged with licensing a law enforcement agent or private security officer to perform law enforcement duties.
- (30) Mandatory reporting means an entity is required to report specific information.
- (31) Minimum mandatory information means the minimum information that must be supplied when completing an incident report or other electronic form or record.

- (32) Military equipment refers to tools or equipment listed on the Annual List of Military Equipment that shall be developed annually by DOJ in conjunction with the U.S. Department of Defense and citizens attending regional and annual policing conferences hosted by the U.S. Department of Justice Office of Civilian Oversight and Accountability.
- (33) Negative action refers to an unfavorable finding by the DOJ, a law enforcement entity, federal or state licensing body, certification authority, or private accreditation entity.
- (34) Negligent homicide refers to a criminal charge brought against a person who, due to criminal negligence, allows another person to die.
- (35) Other adjudicated action or decision means formal or official final actions taken against a law enforcement agent based on acts or omissions. A “due process” mechanism is required in order for a decision to be considered final. The result of a fully “adjudicated action” or “decision” is deemed final, since the decision results from the agency’s established administrative procedure, which includes the exercise of appeal options within specified timeframes.

- (a) AG shall create an entity summary record for every law enforcement agency covered by this Act. The entity summary record shall display detailed information about a law enforcement agency, including statistics showing the agency's actual performance in comparison to performance goals publicized by the DOJ Office of Civilian Oversight and Accountability (OCA). An entity summary record also shall display law enforcement statistics by transaction category (use of force, drug arrests, etc.) and by the race, age, and gender of subjects.
- (b) AG shall enable an authorized user to query POP and obtain summary information about a law enforcement agency and agents working for the agency.

SEC. 2. Where Will Information about the Agency Appear?

SEC. 3. What Are the Agency's Crime Statistics?

- (a) The AG shall require a law enforcement agency to provide detailed crime statistics for the community it serves, summarized by type of crime. An agency also shall provide statistics on crimes solved and the manner in which crimes were solved.

SEC. 4. How Many Family Members Work for an Agency?

- (a) The AG shall require a law enforcement agency to identify personnel (law enforcement agents and administrative employees) who are related by marriage or birth. An agency shall publish on its website summary information about the number of relatives working for the agency, segmented by administrative personnel and law enforcement agents.

SEC. 5. What Is an Agent Summary Record?

- (a) AG shall create an agent summary record for each law enforcement agent in POP using the agent's social security number. The agent summary record shall display comprehensive information about a law enforcement agent, including an agent's age, race, and gender; training and test scores; licensure information; and statistics on a law enforcement agent's performance month-to-date, year-to-date, and cumulative-to-date.

POP also shall display a law enforcement agent's performance relative to established goals as well as other information the AG deems relevant.

POP SHALL INCLUDE THE FOLLOWING DATA RECORDS AT MINIMUM:

(1) Entity Summary Record

(A) AG shall create an entity summary record to establish a law enforcement agency in POP. The Entity Summary Record shall include:

(i) A unique identifier assigned by POP. POP shall assign a unique entity identifier to an agency:

1. If an agency closes or consolidates with another agency(ies), AG shall close each agency involved by invalidating the agency’s entity identifier.
2. AG shall ensure data associated with the closed agency(ies) remain available for queries, data analysis, and reporting. The AG shall not assign an entity identifier associated with a closed or consolidated agency to another law enforcement agency.
3. AG shall deem an agency resulting from a consolidation to be a new agency and shall assign the agency a new entity identifier. The entity record shall display summary statistics for each agency involved in the consolidation.
4. The AG shall ensure records for a law enforcement agent who worked for the closed or consolidated agency remain available to be queried and analyzed. AG also shall transfer summary data on an agent’s performance to the agency resulting from the consolidation so the information can be used to calculate an agent’s cumulative-to-date performance.

Additionally, the AG shall ensure the Entity Summary Record includes:

- (ii) Population statistics from the U.S. Census Bureau, broken down by race, age, and gender; for the community the law enforcement agency serves;
- (iii) Breakdown of law enforcement personnel working for the agency by rank, race, gender, and age;

POP SHALL INCLUDE THE FOLLOWING DATA RECORDS AT MINIMUM:

(3) Agent Detail Report	(B) An Agent Detail Report shall provide all data entered into POP by a law enforcement agent or pertaining to a law enforcement agent. An Agent Detail Report shall provide summary information about an agent; information about incident reports prepared by a law enforcement agent; actions taken against an agent; complaints leveled against an agent by a member of the public; complaints leveled by law enforcement agents against an agent; and other agent-specific information. The Agent Detail Report also shall provide information about a law enforcement agent’s training, including training required; training completed; training scores received; and training an agent failed to complete by the established deadline.

POP SHALL INCLUDE THE FOLLOWING DATA RECORDS AT MINIMUM:

(4) Agent Summary Record

(A) AG shall require a law enforcement agency to establish an Agent Summary Record in POP for every law enforcement agent working for an agency and every law enforcement agent trainee. A law enforcement agency shall enter a law enforcement agent's/trainee's social security number as the person's user identification number. A person's social security number shall not be viewable to POP users once entered.

(B) POP shall perform a search for the social security number before commencing to add the person to POP.

(i) If the agent identifier is not found during the search, POP shall proceed with edits to determine if the agent meets conditions for becoming a law enforcement agent as set forth by the AG. If the agent passes the edits, POP will create a POP summary record for the agent.

An agency's chief law enforcement executive shall ensure that a new hire is subject to a current background check before he or she can be added to the POP Data Bank or transferred to a new agency using the POP Agent Transfer Function. (The background check shall determine if a law enforcement agent has a misdemeanor domestic abuse or felony domestic abuse conviction, or another conviction or status that would prevent an agency from hiring the law enforcement agent.)

(ii) If the agent identifier already exists in POP, POP shall commence another search to determine if an agent's "Unfit" Indicator is set to "Final" or "Pending."

(iii) If the "Unfit" Indicator is set to "Final" or "Pending," POP shall end the add agent process. A law enforcement agency may be permitted to add a law enforcement agent who has an unfit status of "Pending" at a later time.

POP SHALL INCLUDE THE FOLLOWING DATA RECORDS AT MINIMUM:

	(iv) If the “Unfit” Indicator is not set to “Final” or “Pending,” POP shall append an agent’s summary record to the agency’s entity record. If a law enforcement agent works for multiple law enforcement agencies and a private security firm, an agent’s summary record shall have a segment for each law enforcement agency and each security firm that employs the agent.
(5) LEA Pattern or Practices	(A) AG shall generate a detailed POP report showing a law enforcement agent’s patterns or practices in an organized, easy-to-read format. The combining of the law enforcement agency identifier with the law enforcement agent identifier allows POP to present a history of an agent’s actions organized by agency, transaction type, and demographics of the subjects.
(6) Licensing and Certification	(A) POP shall deactivate a law enforcement agent’s record and set it to “Pending” if the agent fails to secure re-licensure by the timeframe required by this Act or policy.

 - (F) Other information the AG deems warranted.
 - (2) Law Enforcement Agency Revenue Report, which displays by transaction category the amount of revenue generated by a law enforcement agency month-to-date, year-to-date, and cumulative-to-date. Transaction categories shall display a revenue breakdown by demographic group, age, and gender. A Law Enforcement Agency Revenue Report shall also provide an income statement showing how net revenue was calculated.

- (a) G shall allow a user, based upon his or her access level, to generate custom reports based upon the parameters and search criteria the user enters.

TITLE 20—MARKETING POP

SEC. 1. How Will the Public Learn about POP Features?

- (a) Data collected during a pattern or practice investigation is woefully incomplete without input from community members who are the subject of law enforcement actions. To improve the effectiveness of the POP Data Bank, the AG shall conduct an ongoing public relations campaign to educate the public about the POP incident response feature, complaint feature, role of DOJ's Office of Civilian Oversight and Accountability (OCA), and regional and national policing conferences hosted by OCA. The AG shall target marketing efforts in proportion to the extent a community or demographic group is adversely affected by law enforcement actions.
- (b) AG shall place radio and television ads, public service announcements (PSAs), and marketing messages that convey to targeted communities information on how they can get involved in helping to influence national policing policies and practices.

- (a) AG shall develop a national policing approach that ensures policing throughout the United States is consistent and high-quality in every State. AG shall achieve and maintain high-quality policing by involving every law enforcement agency and law enforcement agent throughout the U.S. in a process of continuous quality improvement in policing.

SEC. 2. How Will the AG Cultivate a National Culture of Quality Policing?

- (a) AG shall maintain a sustained focus on four tenets: 1) Smart policing; 2) Obligation to preserve life and prevent injury during the policing process; 3) Crime prevention; and 4) Crime solving. The AG shall cement the four tenets of quality policing as the bedrock of America’s policing culture by making sure the four tenets guide the development of policies; practices; training programs; role-playing scenarios; assessment instruments; and transparency and accountability mechanisms.

SEC. 3. How Will AG Promote Smart Policing?

- (a) AG shall require a law enforcement agent to show respect for members of the public; exercise sound judgment; effectively utilize de-escalation techniques to manage volatile encounters; adhere to training protocols; abide by laws and policies; and abstain from prohibited practices. Smart policing requires a law enforcement agent to make wise decisions during an initial encounter with a member of the public in order to avoid the need for use of force as an encounter progresses.

SEC. 4. How Will AG Shift the Focus to an Obligation to Preserve Life?

- (a) The AG shall ensure the “Obligation to preserve life and prevent injury” is an abiding theme and goal that guides a law enforcement agent’s decision-making during the policing process. POP shall monitor a law enforcement agent’s performance to determine the degree to which an agent is able to apprehend subjects without injury or use-of-force. No entity other than DOJ’s Office of Civilian Oversight and Accountability shall establish policing protocols to be used while performing policing activities within the United States of America.

SEC. 5. How Will the AG Ensure Protections for Special Groups (Mentally and Physically Disabled, etc.)

- (a) AG shall establish an advisory Committee to recommend to the Office of Civilian Oversight and Accountability best practices for policing special communities such as schools, senior facilities, etc. and people with special needs. Any and all recommendations offered by the Committee shall be presented and discussed at four regional conferences before adoption. The adoption of such recommendations must be preceded by a 90 day comment period.

SEC. 6. How Will the AG Maintain a Sustained Focus on Crime Solving?

- (a) AG shall generate a report that reveals a law enforcement agency's crime-solving statistics, broken down by type of crime and manner in which each crime shown on the report was solved, i.e., confession, plea bargain, evidence, eyewitness, etc.
- (b) AG shall make available federal resources and training to help law enforcement agencies with high rates of unsolved crime significantly improve evidence-based crime-solving capabilities.

SEC. 7. How Will AG Ensure a Major Focus on Crime Prevention?

- (a) AG shall encourage people in communities with high crime rates to join with experts from academic institutions (criminologists, statisticians, psychologists, social scientists, and media representatives) to create a Quality Policing Team (QPT). The QPT shall work with law enforcement to develop a crime reduction and prevention plan that includes encouraging members of the public to access POP and complete a Notice of Illegal Activities Form to alert law enforcement of persons involved in illegal activities (drug dealers, etc.). QPT also shall encourage members of the public to complete a POP LEA Complaint Form to make DOJ aware of law enforcement agents who are engaged in inappropriate or illegal activities.
- (b) AG shall provide an online forum and other mechanisms to help QPTs across the nation connect, exchange ideas, jointly develop best practices, and hone proven strategies for making a community safe.

 - (8) Perform other activities necessary to ensure a quality policing environment nationwide.

SEC. 2. How Will DOJ Target Resources?

- (a) AG shall target a significant share of OCA resources towards communities that are most adversely affected by unconstitutional and unlawful law enforcement actions and high rates of crime as revealed by POP reports.

SEC. 3. When and Where Will OCOA Host Regional Policing Conferences?

- (a) AG via OCOA shall host four regional conferences each year to review the state of policing in the United States and to identify and capitalize on opportunities to further improve policing and reduce crime. Regional conferences shall enlist the public's involvement in studying pertinent problems and issues related to law enforcement. Policing conferences shall not be open to law enforcement agents or their spouses.
- (b) The AG may reduce the number of regional conferences held from four to two, once POP statistics begin to confirm a significant nationwide reduction in crime and use-of-force events by and against law enforcement agents for three consecutive years. In the event DOJ reduces the number of regional conferences to two, regional conferences shall not be held in the same regions for two consecutive years.

SEC. 5. How Shall AG Handle Proposed Changes in Policing Policy?

- (a) AG shall enlist experts, community groups, criminologists, and advocates to help evaluate and examine current and proposed policing policies to determine if a proposal disproportionately affects, in an adverse manner, a particular ethnic, gender, or socio-economic group. OCOA shall publish on its website each public impact statement developed in response to a proposed change in policing policies or practices. AG shall ensure a public impact statement is discussed extensively during at least one annual policing conference and two regional policing conferences before a change can be adopted or implemented.

SEC. 6. How Will AG Correct Problem Patterns or Practices?

- (a) DOJ shall review POP reports and audit a law enforcement agency to determine if the agency is, in fact, engaging in unconstitutional or unlawful practices.
- (b) AG shall furnish training to help deputized attorneys learn how to conduct a pattern or practice investigation, analyze POP reports, and bring a civil action against a law enforcement agency and a criminal action against a law enforcement agent on behalf of DOJ.

SEC. 7. How Will AG Ensure that People Most Affected by Policing Are Involved?

- (a) The AG shall not create an ongoing leadership hierarchy among persons working with OCOA on a volunteer basis. Any ad hoc committee of volunteers convened shall have a demographic makeup that represents the proportion to which each demographic group is adversely affected by law enforcement actions based upon POP use-of-force data and crime statistics. A person shall not participate on the same ad hoc committee for more than one year.

- (b) OCOA shall make scholarships to attend policing conferences available for persons in communities most adversely affected by law enforcement actions. OCOA shall use a public lottery process to award scholarships. OCOA shall publicize the scholarship program on its website, via community notices, and in community publications.

SEC. 1. Who Will Investigate Use-of-Force Incidents on Behalf of a State?

- (a) A use-of-force event by a law enforcement agency shall be investigated by a State-approved team of independent investigators. SEC. 6. What Is a Citizen Monitor Authorized to Do at an Incident Scene?

- (a) A citizen monitor plays a critical role in law enforcement's system of checks and balances. A citizen monitor, upon arriving at the scene of a law enforcement-involved use-of-force event, is authorized to monitor and help secure the scene as well as evidence at the scene. A citizen monitor shall record and photograph a crime scene and persons at the crime scene to the fullest extent possible. A citizen monitor also may record the name and telephone number of witnesses. A citizen monitor shall cease all data collection activities once a CSI on the independent investigative team arrives at the scene.
